THE MAN ROOSEVELT

A PORTRAIT SKETCH

By FRANCIS E. LEUPP, Washington Correspondent of the New York Evening Post.

This is not a laudatory sketch or a conventional biography, but a close personal study of President Roosevelt by one who has known him intimately for twenty-five years as a man and a friend as well as a politician and a statesman. It is written with the candor and fearlessness of the trained newspaper man, is rich in anecdote, and contains many bits of hitherto unwritten history.

Illustrated from photographs. Cloth $1.25 net. Postage, 12 cents additional.

D. APPLETON & COMPANY

Publishers, New York

It has been our custom for the past two years to bring out only one "star" book of fiction in the Spring season. This year, however, we shall publish two novels that will be far out of the ordinary.

When Wilderness Was King

A Tale of the Illinois Country. By Randall Parrish

Robert Cavelier

The Romance of La Salle. By William Dana Orcutt

The first will be published in March and the second in April, and long before that time both booksellers and bookbuyers will have heard a good deal more about them. For the present we will ask you to remember the titles.

NOW READYSCRIBNERSA New Book by Dr. BriggsNEW LIGHT on the LIFE OF JESUS

By CHARLES A. BRIGGS, D.D. 12mo, $1.20 net (Postage 11 cents)

In which Dr. Briggs sets forth a new order of the events and teaching in the life of Jesus, in the light of which a large proportion of the disputes as to the harmony of the Gospels disappear. The result is revolutionary so far as modern opinions are concerned.

ELWELL'S BRIDGE TOURNAMENT HANDS

By J. B. ELWELL, author of "Elwell on Bridge." 60 cts. net, (Postage 5 cts.)

*Later in the MonthKOREA By ANGUS HAMILTON

With a newly prepared map and numerous illustrations. $4.00 net.

A special interest attaches to this full and up-to-date description of Korea and its people, by reason of the present international situation.

"A timely book," says the London Academy, "a well-considered, matured and informing work by a man who knows the country from end to end and can put pictures on paper with consummate ease."

IT MIGHT well be maintained that General Armstrong, as the founder of Hampton Institute (which trained Booker T. Washington and started the whole modern movement for manual training), did more to bring about the transformation of the Negro and the Indian into useful American citizens than any other one man. This is the first study of the man and his achievement that has appeared, and Mrs. Talbot (his daughter) has made an exceedingly interesting picture of him and of the work in which he played a pioneer's part.

NEW FICTION

An Evans of Suffolk

By ANNA FARQUHAR

Author of "Her Boston Experiences," etc.

12mo, decorated cover, illustrated, $1.50.

A POWERFUL story of modern life. The chief character is a young woman, the daughter of a disreputable anarchist, who marries into a conservative Boston family without explaining her antecedents. The plot is strong; and the telling is brilliant, with just enough of the author's gift of social satire to enliven the book without making it flippant.

A Romantic Story of Bohemia and Military Life

By THEODORE ROBERTS

12mo, decorative cover, illustrated, $1.50.

THE author comes from a family of recognized literary prominence, of whom, perhaps, the most noted is Professor Charles G. D. Roberts, the well-known Nature Writer and Romancist. Although this is Mr. Theodore Roberts's first published work, it shows much ability, and the publishers are confident of its success. The motif and the construction of the plot are novel; the characters are virile and the action is quick and spirited.

The advance sales of Miss Farquhar's new novel make its success assured. ♪

The Trade has already justified our confidence in Mr. Roberts's first long story. ♪ ♪ ♪ ♪ ♪

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready "The American Prisoner," by Eden Phillpotts; "Rabies, Its Place Among Germ-Diseases and its Origin in the Animal Kingdom," by Dr. David Sime; Carpenter and Brewster's "Modern English Prose," and "Selections from Rabelais's Gargantua," by C. H. C. Wright.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY have just brought out a new novel entitled "Her Infinite Variety," by Brand Whitlock. The volume is artistically gotten up with decorations by Ralph Fletcher Seymour, and twelve full-page illustrations in photogravure, engraved on copper, and printed singly on hand presses, from drawings by Howard Chandler Christy. Mr. Whitlock's work itself is described as "a love story as delicious as the great passion itself."

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish this spring "By the Fireside," a new book by Charles Wagner; "David," a dramatic poem by Cale Young Rice, whose "Charles di Tocca" was well received last year; also, "Cabbages and Kings," a novel of Central American life by O. Henry. They announce that two large editions of Henry Harland's new story, "My Friend Prospero," have already been exhausted, and that a large third edition is now on press.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. will publish next month the first of the two historical novels to which reference was made several weeks ago. It will be entitled "When Wilderness Was King," and will deal with the Illinois country, particularly with the dramatic events at Fort Dearborn. The work is written by Randall Parrish, and illustrated by the Kinneys. The second book is entitled "Robert Cavalier," by William Dana Orcutt, who deals with the romantic career of La Salle, and will contain illustrations by Charlotte Weber. The book will be ready in April.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish next Saturday "Violett," by the Baroness von Hutton, a romance offering a fine study of a gifted boy who turns out a musical genius swayed by moods and passions; "Henderson," by Rose E. Young, the story of a hero of a little old Missouri town; "The Oligarchy of Venice," a study of a political organization at which all the world wondered, by the young Mayor of New York City, George B. McClellan; "New York," a new edition of Ellis H. Roberts's contribution to the American Commonwealth Series; and the eleventh part of "A Hebrew and English Lexicon of the Old Testament, based on Gesenius," edited by Francis Brown and Dr. S. R. Driver. This house calls attention to a long list of books about Japan and Russia on their catalogue, among which the work of Lafcadio Hearn, Edmund Noble and John W. Foster stands high with the best critics.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a new book by the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, entitled "New Light on the Life of Jesus," in which the author sets forth a new order of the events and teaching in the life of Christ in the light of which it is thought a large proportion of the disputes as to the harmony of the gospels disappear. They have also just ready "Elwell's Bridge Tournament Hands," giving the analysis and the complete play of the hands in the New York Evening Telegram's Tournament, with illustrations showing the complete hands, also, a list of the successful competitors. Later in the month they will bring out an up-to-date and timely work on Korea, by Angus Hamilton, with a newly prepared map and numerous illustrations; "Matthew Arnold," by G. W. E. Russell, and "Cardinal Newman," by the Rev. Dr. William Barry, two new volumes in the Literary Lives series, edited by Robertson Nicoll; also a manual on "Advanced Bridge," by J. B. Elwell.

In telling the story of mediæval England the author has chosen to treat the theme from a point of view which is not exactly that of the other volumes of the present series. Social rather than political facts have been kept in view, and throughout illustrations from contemporary accounts supply some of the characteristic detail which is apt to be crowded out in political histories.

On a thread of story the author has strung a scathing arraignment of the workings of the German military system. His temerity has led to a six months' imprisonment and he has been dismissed from the German army. Zola's realistic picture of corruption in the French army given in "Le débâcle" almost pales before these descriptions of the wholesale abuse of power, the looseness of discipline, the army usurers, the money marriages, the debt-ridden officers, the hard drinking, the gambling for high stakes, etc., in the German army. The Kaiser himself has ordered an investigation of the author's charges.

Rome in the first century under Nero, with all its vice and barbaric luxury furnished the scene for the tender love story of a young Roman tribune and a Christian girl. The invincible progress and triumph of the Christian creed against all cruelty and persecution is the keynote. The great apostle St. Paul was specially hunted down by the favorite of Nero, who also strove to separate the lovers. The pastimes of Nero are gruesomely described. A learned physician represents the fearless study of the old and new doctrines.

Professor Gide's Principes d'Economie politique has gone through eight editions in the original French, and been translated into many other foreign languages. The first English translation was published in 1889. The changes made in the present edition are: the elimination of all distinctively French illustrative material, and the substitution of data from American sources quoted from the latest and most desirable authorities. Especially is this true in the discussion of protective tariffs, paper and metallic money, and the history of bank organization.

Professor Delitzsch in his famous lectures entitled "Babel und Bibel" which embodied a wealth of Assyriological knowledge, assailed the whole theory of Old Testament inspiration, showing that the book was composed in large and essential part of material drawn directly from Babylonian sources. Prof. Gunkel's reply, of course, upholds the inspiration of the Old Testament and points out many errors in Delitzsch's statements of facts.

Gunter, Archibald Clavering. Phil Conway: a novel. N. Y., Home Publishing Co., [1904. Ja.] '03. 297 p. D. cl., $1.50; pap., 50 c.

A story of New York life, opening in a magnificent modern bachelor apartment house. Here lives Philip Caskill Conway, the hero. Coming home late in the evening he is met at the door of his apartment by a young German, who proves to be a new sort of Sherlock Holmes, as he makes it evident to Conway that an attempt is being made on his life. The unravelling of a sinister plot and the finding of the would-be murderer is the motive.

The author is professor in the University of Rome. His book is thought to be the most important contribution to the literature of international socialism since Marx's "Capital." The first part, "In memory of the manifesto," is a concise study of the historical causes which made possible the writing and publishing of the Communist Manifesto in 1848. The second and longer portion of the book, consists of an essay entitled "Historical materialism." This is the brief and convenient name given by F. Engels to the central principle of socialism. In this essay Labriola explains in detail and with many illustrations "historical materialism."

The dramatic tale of Queen Caroline Matilda and her unhappy love for Struensee, her Prime Minister, retold in the light of recent historic research. Considerable space has been devoted to her life in England before her marriage. This has enabled the author to describe the English court from the death of Queen Caroline to the accession of George III., and so form a link with his other books on the House of Hanover. "Wolff has given us a purely human portraiture of Tannhäuser's career from infancy to his final disappearance from earth, identifying him with one of the more noted music singers of the Hohenstaufen era; one person with two names. The mystic episode of the knight's dalliance with the Venus of the Hørselberg is skilfully led up to by a sequence of natural happenings which result in Tannhäuser's delusion as to his fancied sojourn with Venus and her nymphs in the depths of the mountain. Various historic personages—the leading music singers and others of that epoch—appear in the narrative."—Preface.

Young, T. E. Insurance: a practical exposition for the student and business man. N. Y., Sir I: Pitman & Sons, Ltd., [1904.] 15+339 p. O. cl., $2.50.

This book has been expressly written for (1) The actuarial student, (2) The student of fire, marine and insurance generally, (3) The business man. It treats in an elementary and intelligible manner of the principles, processes and conduct of insurance business as a key to the interpretation of the accounts and practice of offices and as a comprehensive foundation for maturer study. The uniform object steadily retained in view has been the presentation and explanation of those principles as the basis of practice; and that, too, in a concise form, with the constant aid of illustrative examples actually occurring in insurance work, whereby the principles may be readily understood.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE has just brought out the "Catalogue of the Public Documents of the Fifty-sixth Congress and of other Departments of the Government of the United States for the period from July 1, 1899 to June 30, 1901," prepared under the supervision of L. C. Ferrell, the Superintendent of Documents, and compiled under the direction of Miss Alice C. Fichtenkam, chief cataloguer. This is the fifth volume of the Document Catalogue ("Comprehensive Index") provided for by the act approved January 12, 1895, and includes all documents and reports submitted to Congress from March 4, 1899, to March 4, 1901, without regard to the time when they were printed, also, all publications of the Executive Departments, bureaus and offices of the government issued during the two fiscal years—July 1, 1899 to June 30, 1901. (1105 p. 4°, cl.)

JOHN COTTON DANA, librarian of the Free Public Library, Newark, N. J., and Henry W. Kent, librarian of the Grolier Club, New York, purpose to publish during the coming year six reprints of rare and out-of-print 17th and 18th century works on libraries and their management. The volumes arranged for are: "Des Devoirs et des Qualités du Bibliothécaire," by Jean Baptiste Cotton des Housayes, (1727-1783;); "An Overture for founding and maintaining of Bibliothechs in every Paroch throughout this Kingdom," by the Rev. James Kirkwood, (1650?-1708;); "De Bibliothecis Syntagma," by Justus Lipsius, (1547-1606;); "Life [of Sir Thomas Bodley, 1545-1613,] written by himself, 1609, with his First Draught of the Statutes of the Public Library at Oxford;" "News from France, or a Description of the Library of Cardinal Mazarini," by Gabriel Naudé, (1600-1653;); and "The Reformed Librarie-Keeper," by John (Durie) Drury, (1596-1680.) The edition will be limited to 525 copies at $10 the set.

C. MARTINS, Library Bookstore Princeton, N. J., solicits subscriptions for a work entitled "Writings on American History, 1902—an attempt at an exhaustive bibliography of books and periodical articles on United States history published during the year 1902, together with some contributions towards a bibliography of writings on other parts of the Americas for the same year." The work is the outcome of seven years' experience in gathering for private use an annual list of the books and periodicals on American history by Dr. Ernest Cushing Richardson and Anson Ely Morse. The volume now in press contains more than 1000 titles of books and pamphlets and upwards of 5000 titles of periodical articles, and exhibits the following features: It is (1) an alphabetical subject index; (2) the book titles, so far as the works have been the subject of review in the chief critical periodicals, are furnished with "appraisements" extracted from these reviews; (3) each subject is furnished with a brief definition; (4) books and pamphlets of which catalogue cards can be obtained from the Library of Congress, (about 75 per cent.,) have the number added. It is hoped that this annual volume may be published continuously in the future. The price of the volume is $3 net.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

FEBRUARY 6, 1904.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE NEED OF POSTAL REFORM.

THE national administration cannot rightly be held to blame, as partisan politicians of the opposite political faith are endeavoring to assume, for scandals in the Post Office Department which it is exposing and punishing and not perpetuating and condoning—but should rather be praised by all. It is to the credit of Civil Service methods, of which the President is an exponent, that, as has been pointed out, no one of the "grafters" under trial came into the service through Civil Service examinations, and but one of them had received promotion through that method. One conviction of the "grafters" has already been secured, and other trials are progressing toward justice, although technicalities in the laws may save some offenders from conviction or adequate punishment. But the real difficulties within the Post Office Department have yet to be grappled with. The President some time since gave personal assurances to a committee which waited upon him that postal abuses should receive prompt attention. But the exigencies of threatened war, of foreign affairs, of the Panama situation, and of the administration of our new dependencies, have for a long time back so absorbed the energies of the government that domestic matters and affairs of peace, though these affect all the people of the land most intimately, have been relegated to the background, and the Post Office Department has yet to receive the thorough overhauling and reform which the retiring Secretary of War has given to his department, and which, from top to bottom, the postal service sorely needs.

In fact, as has been pointed out, the Postmaster-General, busied with perfunctory personal signatures, which should not be required, and with political details as to personnel directly opposed to good business management, has no time for the real administration of the Department. Such attention as he has been able to give to the postal scandals confessedly deferred for more than a month the preparation of the annual report usually submitted with the President's message. The correspondence of the Post Office Department is in arrears, and letters fail to receive acknowledgment. Congress does not grant adequate relief or provide necessary legislative reform, partly because there is no one in the Department to ask for it, as Mr. Root asked for, and, despite all prophecy, obtained, reform for the War Department. Mr. Madden, whose methods as Third Assistant Postmaster-General are more drastic than those of the censorship in Russia, still plays the role of postal czar; people are beginning to ask how and why he is kept in office, and a Congressional investigation is in the air. Some time ago an ex-post-office official at Washington invited patronage of periodical publishers who desired to be represented before the Department, and recently another person has sent a similar invitation, though with the usual disclaimer of other than legitimate methods. This has led to unpleasant comment, for it should not be necessary that the publishing trade should take such methods to obtain fair hearing at Washington, and suspicion has been excited, though we are bound to say that no knowledge has come to us in our relations with the postal service that confirms such suspicions. The Washington authorities seem to look upon New York, which is the main publishing center, with especial espionage, and the New York Post Office is held to the most drastic application of postal regulations without color of law. Publications properly belonging in New York have been driven to smaller cities where the same regulations are not enforced, and one at least has sought refuge in Canada, whose authorities are specifically inviting such removals, offering the half-cent per pound rate of postage for registered periodicals, which ensures delivery in New York at a loss to our own government, while New York publications, under our laws and extra-legal regulations, are charged at the manifold and extortionate rate of individual postage. The New York Post Office has itself become demoralized, and business is held up in the absence of the superior officers lest some mistake should be made which will incur the wrath of Washington officials. The service, indeed, has become thoroughly demoralized and has reached such a pass that only the power of the President can initiate adequate reform.

We have not gone so far in this journal as to hold that the government should carry any class of mail matter below actual cost. We have endeavored to give the Department full credit for its brilliant and serviceable achievement of rural free delivery as a great boon to the people. We have asked, and shall ask persistently, however, for a postal service which shall be as good as, and ultimately better than, that of any other country, for certainly the country of free education should lead in postal progress. It has been made subject of criticism that we should be represented at Rome, where the Universal Postal Congress for the better development of postal methods is to meet in March, by a representative who stands for postal retrogression rather than progress, Mr. Loud, whose long service as chairman of the House postal committee gave him indeed the most thorough knowledge of postal relations, but who, as the real controller of the postal service, held back its normal development. What we need now is a thorough overhauling of the Post Office Department from top to bottom, not for the negative work of punishment merely, but for the positive work of bettered administration in the light of the best methods of corporate and personal business, such an administration as Mr. Wanamaker endeavored to set on foot. The Postmaster-General, in his annual report, is certainly misled or is misleading in his assumption that adequate reform has resulted from exposure of the postal scandals. The President can do no more real service to the country than to initiate such a reform.

As pertinent to the discussion of postal administration and in apology to our subscribers, we may state the facts as to the delay in the mails of our regular issue of last week, the Annual Summary Number. Anticipating the probable action of the New York Post Office under instructions from Washington, we had addressed to the Postmaster-General in the month of December a general communication stating at length the nature of this periodical and of its several bibliographical lists. To this communication there has been neither acknowledgment nor response. The further precaution was taken of having ready, to the amount of several hundred dollars, the necessary deposit to cover postage as third-class matter, in case the number was refused as second-class matter. When, on publication day, the Bulk Department of the New York Post Office did rule out the number, proffer was made, in accordance with the Postal Regulations, of the cash to cover third-class postage, but the Superintendent declined to take action in the absence, on Saturday afternoon, of the chief authorities of the New York Post Office. As a consequence, a delay of practically forty-eight hours, from Saturday to Monday, when third-class postage was proffered again and accepted, was caused by this hold-up, and subscribers in Chicago, for instance, who should have received their number Monday morning did not receive it probably until Wednesday. Our endeavors to have this difficult issue out on time were thus negated. The number, as our subscribers know, and as the Post Office Department has been fully notified, is an integral part of our regular issue, furnished without extra charge; and because it contains a record of all the books of the year, instead of the books of the week or month, there is no conceivable reason why any difference should be made by the Post Office Department between this and other issues. Probably in no other postal department than that of the United States could such an absurdity prevail, and it is as much of a disgrace to our government method as it is an inconvenience and an annoyance to publishers and readers.

THE change in the name of the Scribner house from a personal firm to that of an incorporated company, does not, as is announced, mark any change in personnel or of other significance, but is simply a development in the direction of convenience and continuity of administration. Mr. Charles Scribner as president of the new company remains the active head of the house, with Mr. Arthur H. Scribner as vice-president, while Mr. E. W. Morse, so long associated with the business in important capacities, becomes secretary of the corporation. We trust, however, that Mr. Charles Scribner, who has declined a re-election as president of the American Publishers' Association, will nevertheless find opportunity for larger leisure and more recreative rest than his services to the trade for many years past have enabled him to take. Mr. Scribner has not only been the head of one of our foremost publishing, importing, and retailing houses, but has taken a large part of the responsibility and burden of the reform movement as president of the Association, and has also been treasurer of the American Publishers' Copyright League. There are few men of the present publishing generation who have shown more public spirit and self-sacrifice in keeping the publishing trade up to the highest standards, and setting an example to others among his fellow-craftsmen. It is pleasant to have opportunity to say just words of praise for a man in his lifetime instead of afterward, and we take the opportunity of his retirement from the presidency of the American Publishers' Association to express to him the honor and confidence in which he is held by the trade.

As was foreseen, the final vote of the American Publishers' Association leaves fiction where it was in the plan of the Association, and includes "juveniles" as fiction. Considerable pressure was brought to bear upon the members of the Association, especially upon those who were not present at the annual meeting, before the matter was finally settled, either to take the forward step of putting every copyright book on the net basis, or to leave both moot questions in statu quo; but the feeling of the majority seems to be against such action now, and the trade must therefore wait until certain pending questions are settled in the courts before another step forward may be attempted.

THE WORK OF THE POST OFFICE IN 1903.

THE annual report of the Postmaster General, usually submitted to Congress early in December, appears this year more than a month late owing to the investigation of the affairs of the Post Office Department, having been made public on January 10th. Of the investigation Mr. Payne says:

"This investigation has resulted in a complete reorganization of some of the bureaus of the Department, and it is hoped has eradicated all dishonest, irregular and criminal practices, which the investigation has developed as having been in existence for several years."

Dwelling on the need of better postal facilities in New York City, he says:

"Because of the location of the city of New York on a long and narrow peninsula and the congested condition of the city's streets, it is difficult to give to that metropolis as good a postal service as the volume of business there being transacted justifies. The transmission of the mail from the railroad stations to the present city post office, and its distribution from the post office to the people in New York, owing to present conditions is necessarily slow and difficult. . . . The commission designated by Congress recommended the location of the proposed new building at a point adjacent to the new railway station of the Pennsylvania Railway Company. . . . Since the report of your commission the Department has received an informal proposition from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company whereby the Department could secure similar advantages in connection with the improvements in the terminal facilities of that corporation."

Of the many recommendations made, the following are of most general interest:

That a system of postal checks be authorized by Congress for the transmission of small sums of money through the mails.

That Congress consider the propriety of authorizing post offices in Porto Rico to receive small amounts on deposit, giving thereon a rate of interest not to exceed 2 per cent. per annum.

That a law be enacted to prohibit the establishment and maintenance of boxes to be rented for the receipt of mail without authority from the Post Office Department.

That a penalty be provided for the counterfeiting of an official postmarking stamp, or for the use of such stamp for an improper purpose.

That a law be enacted which shall prevent furnishing to the Department supplies manufactured by convict labor.

That action be taken by Congress on the report of the commission appointed to select a site for a new post office building in the city of New York.

That Congress earnestly consider the propriety of granting an annuity to railway post-office clerks who are permanently disabled in line of duty or worn out through long, faithful service.

That Congress, in the interest of efficient postal service, consolidate the third and fourth classes of mail matter and fix the rate of postage at one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

That Congress authorize the Postmaster General to accept, under suitable regulations, the mailings of large quantities of identical pieces of printed matter and small articles of merchandise without the necessity of affixing postage stamps to the individual pieces.

That a sum of $300,000 be appropriated, to be immediately available, for the purpose of enabling the Department to continue the installation of additional rural free delivery routes until the end of the present fiscal year.

That the provision of law that rural carriers shall not be prohibited from doing an express package business be repealed.

That the maximum salary of a rural carrier be increased.

That the Interstate Commerce law be amended to prohibit common carriers, to wit, telegraph and express companies, or any of their employees, from aiding and abetting in the green goods and lottery swindles or any other scheme, carried on partly by mail and partly by common carrier, and which is in violation of the postal laws.

That a small appropriation be made by Congress for the purpose of enabling the Postmaster General to investigate the feasibility of telephone service in connection with rural free delivery service.

That legislation be enacted authorizing the exclusion from the mails of all matter relating to the class of enterprises known as guessing contests.

That Congress prohibit by law the use of the postal service for the promotion of gambling schemes.

In regard to the proposed adoption of the telephone in connection with rural free delivery service, the following recommendation is made:

"The extension of the rural free delivery service and the consequent increase in the use of the mails by the patrons residing along the rural routes, together with the extension of the telephone service into the farming districts of the country, has suggested the propriety of extending the privilege of the special delivery of such letters, or the contents thereof, by means of the telephone, it being proposed that a special stamp be provided covering the cost of such transmission, the use of which stamp would authorize the postmaster at the office of delivery to open such letter and telephone its contents to the person to whom it is addressed. It will be seen that if such plan is feasible, twenty-four hours time will be saved in the transmission of important messages to many people residing along the lines of the rural delivery routes. I would recommend that a small appropriation be made by Congress for the purpose of enabling the Postmaster General to investigate this subject."

The financial operations of the Department are reviewed in the following table:

Comparison of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1903, with those for the previous year.

	1902.	1903.
Ordinary postal revenue...	$119,958,229 40	$131,984,535 00
Receipts from money order business.....	1,889,817 86	2,239,908 24
Total receipts from all sources.....	$121,848,047 26	$134,224,443 24
Total expenditures for the year.....	124,785,697 07	138,784,487 97
Excess of expenditures over receipts.....	$2,937,649 81	$4,560,044 73

This is an increase in the deficit over the previous year of $1,622,394.92, which is, however, $1,042,183 less than the estimated deficit for the year. The difference between the estimated expenditures for 1905, $168,085,770 and the estimated revenue, $159,472,060, leaves an estimated deficit of $8,613,710.

Regarding second-class mail matter, Mr. Payne says:

The abuses of this class of mail matter have been discussed and defined in many previous reports. Under date of July 17, 1901, after much deliberation and after the abuses of this class had been a scandal to the postal service for many years, it was determined to undertake a reform, through a proper and rational interpretation of the statute, which should be as thorough as possible and yet free from interference with legitimate newspapers and periodicals in the rights accorded them by law. Since that date the department has moved steadily forward toward accomplishment of the desired end. The following results may be regarded as definitely attained and substantially established.

First—All publications which are in fact books and not "periodical publications" have been relegated to the third class, as the statute intends.

Second—The news agents' "return privilege"—that is to say, the mailing at the pound rate dead or unsold matter back to the point from which it was originally shipped, to be returned to the publisher—has been stopped.

Third—A limit properly justified by the statute has been put upon the sample copy privilege, the effect of which is to cure in the main the so-called sample copy abuse.

Fourth—Alleged "newspapers" and "periodicals," issued by certain private schools, academies and other educational enterprises, usually with an advertising purpose, and claiming the benefit of the law according to the second-class mailing privileges to publications of "regularly incorporated institutions of learning," have been eliminated from that class and placed in the third class of mail matter, as contemplated by law.

Fifth—Rulings have been made and sustained under the act of March 3, 1879, which tend to correct the great evil by which many advertising sheets, contrary to the express prohibition of the statute, both gain and maintain the second-class mailing privilege by having advertisers or other interested parties contract for a bulk number of copies of several or many issues to be sent to persons designated by them. Such pretended subscriptions made in bulk were formerly classed as regular in making up what the statute requires—"a legitimate list of subscribers."

INJUNCTION AGAINST GEBBIE & CO. DENIED.

JUDGE COX of the United States Circuit Court has denied the petition of Mrs. Sanderson, of Newark, N. J., for an injunction to restrain Gebbie & Co. from collecting notes still due in payment for subscription editions of Roosevelt's works and others, on the allegation of misrepresentation in the sale of these works. Mrs. Sanderson may now sue for damages since her suit in equity has failed.

GROSVENOR'S "BOOK OF THE PRESIDENTS" TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

THE Trow Directory, Printing and Book-binding Company, New York, announce that, being unable to obtain payment, it will offer for sale at noon on February 15 all the plates, dies, appliances and other materials used by them in the manufacture of "The Book of the Presidents," by General Charles H. Grosvenor. According to the advertisement the owners of the property are: "Arthur P. T. Elder, first name 'Arthur' fictitious, (real first name unknown to the undersigned,) the Continental Press, Lucy S. Bahnsen and Irene L. Faust, having all claimed an interest therein." About a year ago General Grosvenor was attacked in several newspapers for his connection with the enterprise. This led General Grosvenor to publish a statement in which he claimed that his contract with Elder did "not in any way involve any interest in the publication or sale of the book." Instead of gaining from his connection with Elder, General Grosvenor claimed that he had lost the money which he had advanced to the publisher.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE ANNUAL DINNER.

THE annual dinner of The Booksellers' League will be given at the rooms of the Aldine Association, 111 Fifth Avenue, New York, on the evening of February 10 at 7 o'clock sharp. The committee has prepared an excellent programme for the evening and trust that a large number of the members will help them out by their presence. Among the speakers who have promised to be present are Norman Hapgood, author of biographies of Washington, Lincoln, and others and a history of "The Stage in America;" William Alexander Linn, author of a "Life of Horace Greeley," etc.; the Rev. Merle St. Croix Wright, a well-known New York Unitarian pastor; Irving Bacheller, author of "Eben Holden," "Dri and I," etc.; and James Barnes, author of "Great War Trek," "Yankee Ships and Yankee Sailors," etc. The price of tickets is $2.50, and members who intend to be present will please secure them on or before February 8 of W. G. Preston, 372 Fifth Avenue, or of any member of the Board of Managers.

THE ANNUAL DINNER OF THE CHICAGO STATIONERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE second annual dinner of the Chicago Stationers' Association, held at the Auditorium on the evening of January 23, was an enjoyable affair, attended by upwards of 270 members and their friends. There were representatives present from Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Colorado, giving to the gathering a fairly national character. Henry F. Sawtell acted as toastmaster. The first speaker to be introduced was the president of the Association, Fletcher B. Gibbs, who hoped that the organization fever that has broken out among the stationers throughout the country might speedily bring about the forming of a national association—a sentiment that called out unanimous applause. Among the other speakers were John C. Page, of A. C. McClurg & Co.; Henry C. Bainbridge, president of the Stationers Board of Trade; George A. Olney, John C. Schlener, of Minneapolis; William A. Webb, president of the Cincinnati Stationers' Association; Samuel Ward, of Boston, and E. Rudolf Link. Telegrams of congratulation were received from the Pittsburg Booksellers' and Stationers' Association and from Nevill B. Newman, of Toledo.

COMMUNICATIONS.

SUGGESTIONS FOR EXTENDING THE "NET" SYSTEM.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: I have read with interest your article in the WEEKLY of January 16, and I note that you invite discussion. I think it the duty of every bookseller who is interested in the upbuilding of the booktrade in America to express his opinion on the net system and its extension. In the first place, let me state that I favor including fiction in the net list, and it naturally follows that I much prefer juvenile books remaining in the net list. It seems that one of the main arguments against including fiction, and against the net system in general, is the item of transportation. This could be readily cured. Why should the publishers not make a freight allowance to equalize the transportation in all parts of the country? Or why not agree to prepay freight charges entirely on all shipments of 50 pounds or more? This would appeal to the booktrade in general, and would insure them a profit of at least 25 per cent. As is well known, the expense account of a retail book business varies from 20 to 25 per cent. of the gross sales; therefore, supposing the net system to be universal, and at the present discounts, it is a matter of mathematical certainty that the bookseller will not make any money if he has to pay transportation. The very best solution, it seems to me, is for the publishers to keep their discounts varying from a fourth to a third, depending on the quantity, and prepay freight charges in full to any part of America, in shipments of 50 pounds or more. They would find that this plan would appeal very strongly to the booksellers, and would cause them to carry heavier stocks, especially if fiction were put on the net basis.

H. S. COLE,

Sec'y and Treas. Buehl Book Co.

OBITUARY NOTES.

HENRY STANLEY ALLEN, the publisher, died at Ballston, N. Y., January 30. Mr. Allen was born in Windsor, Vt., August 30, 1830. His father, John C. Allen, of Andover, Mass., was well known as an editor, printer and publisher at Andover, Mass., where Henry S. Allen was brought up. After leaving school he was for a time employed in his father's office, partly as clerk, partly as assistant in the printing office. In 1846 he came to New York and entered the employ of Mark H. Newman & Co. In 1851 he took a position with George A. Leavitt, who then kept a bookstore at 12 Vesey Street, as salesman and bookkeeper. Later Mr. Allen's brother, John K. Allen, (now connected with D. Van Nostrand Company,) joined Mr. Leavitt as partner, trading as Leavitt & Allen. Henry S. Allen remained with this firm until its failure in October, 1862, when he was engaged by the assignee, the late Mr. William H. Appleton, to carry on the business for the creditors, which he did for four years to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. In 1867 Mr. Allen became the partner of George W. Carleton, but after the end of eighteen months his health became impaired and he was obliged to sell out his interest and retire from active business. On recovering his health he again joined his brother, John K., and formed the publishing firm of Allen Brothers, which afterward became Leavitt & Allen Brothers. This partnership expired by limitation after four years' duration. Mr. Leavitt retained the business and engaged Henry S. Allen to carry it on for him under the firm name of The World Publishing House. When Mr. Leavitt sold out this business Mr. Allen started in on his own account as publisher of subscription books. His first books were "The People's History of North and South America," "Platt's Wonders and Curiosities," "The World's Great and Eccentric Characters," and "One Hundred Years' Progress of a Free People." In partnership with John R. Anderson he published a book by Marion Harland entitled "Eve's Daughters," which was quite successful. At the expiration of his partnership with Mr. Anderson Mr. Allen brought out a book by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Walsh, entitled "Mary, the Queen of the House of David," which was phenomenally successful. Another book that enjoyed a large sale was "God, Home and Native Land," by the Rev. P. C. Headly, which he brought out in connection with the Eastern Publishing Company of Boston. The last few years of Mr. Allen's life were clouded by ill health, which forbade his active participation in the business which he loved. He was a man of great mental activity, energetic and earnest, and as a business man he was distinguished for his integrity as well as untiring industry. He notably was prolific in ideas and plans for new books and was wont to interpret the public needs, and to meet the demands by a masterful intuition. Mr. Allen is survived by two sons, one of them a minister, the other a physician. The funeral service took place on the 2d inst. in the Harlem Presbyterian Church, New York City, of which Mr. Allen was at one time a deacon.

MRS. ANNIE CHAMBERS-KETCHUM, author of "The Bonnie Blue Flag," one of the most popular of the songs of the Confederacy, died January 27, aged eighty, having been born in 1824 in Scott County, Ky. Mrs. Ketchum, besides a number of songs, wrote "Nelly Bracken," a novel, "Gypsyism," a collection of letters of travel, and a number of text-books on science, literature and art.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

FREDERIC MASSON was installed as a member of the Academie Francaise on January 28, having been selected to succeed the late Gaston Paris.

O. HENRY, under which signature a number of ingenious tales of Western life have been published, is the pen name of Sydney Porter, of Texas.

HENRY C. ROWLAND, whose first book, a collection of short stories, was favorably received last year, is understood to be completing his first novel, which it is said will have the title of "To Windward."

It is understood that Arthur Henry, author of "An Island Cabin," has nearly completed a book describing his original new departure in country living which has included the purchase of a tract of land in the heart of the Catskill Mountains, clearing the ground and building a house which has come to represent not only his own return to nature but also the centre of a new social life for the mountain folk.

"HEADON HILL," the author of "The Duke Decides," is a pseudonym, the author being a son of the late Rev. John Grainger, who for forty years, till his death in 1899, was Vicar of Penn in Buckinghamshire, the ancestral home of William Penn of immortal memory. "Headon Hill" began life as an officer in the English army, serving most of his time in India. He came to America about fifteen years ago, and roamed from New York to Denver in search of a permanent career, but family matters called him back, and he eventually settled down to a journalistic career in London.

PERSONAL NOTES.

JOHN A. HOLDEN, who has been for twenty-seven years connected with Thomas Whitaker, has resigned his position. He will travel for a short time before making arrangements to resume active business. His address for the present will be 470 East 177th Street, New York City.

ERASTUS DARROW celebrated his eighty-first birthday on January 29, having been born in Plymouth, Litchfield County, Connecticut, in 1823. Mr. Darrow having served his apprenticeship in the bookstore of A. H. Maltby, at New Haven, Conn., in 1844, went to Rochester, then already a prosperous city with a population of over 30,000, and became clerk in the bookstore of Clarendon Morse. He succeeded D. M. Dewey, who left Morse to go into business on his own account in Reynolds's Arcade, at the time the most noted building in Western New York. In 1846 Mr. Darrow opened a bookstore in the Minerva Block. Associated with him were James H. Gregory, who withdrew in 1851, and his brother Wallace Darrow, who retired in 1868. Mr. Darrow is personally known to nearly all the leading publishers and booksellers in this country. He says his present birthday finds him in splendid health and active mental powers. In behalf of the trade, of which he has been so long an honored member, we wish him many happy returns of the day.

BUSINESS NOTES.

AVOCA, IA.—J. G. Ruckle on March 1 will succeed to the book and stationery business of Clarence E. Brown.

BALTIMORE, MD.—Wm. J. C. Dulany Company last week sustained a loss of $20,000 through a fire. Fortunately the loss is fully covered by insurance, but, as every one knows, insurance never covers all the loss.

BOSTON, MASS.—The assignee of Small, Maynard & Co., having already paid creditors 50 per cent. of their claims expects to be able in the near future to pay a further dividend of at least 10 per cent., leaving the business in a prosperous condition.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Frank M. Morris has suffered a serious loss through the bursting of frozen pipes connected with the water-tank over his store. A greater part of the collection of Americana from the library of the late Aaron Goodrich was damaged.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Regarding the affairs of the bankrupt concern of Sims, Wilson & Sims Company, the Stationers' Board of Trade requests us to make the following announcement: "Our Chicago attorneys telegraph as follows: 'Sims case court ordered receiver to take bid for whole property and report to Court February 16.' By your mentioning this in your paper you may assist the court as well as the creditors in getting a good purchase price for the assets of the bankrupts. This Board of Trade represents $35,000 in claims in this matter, and is therefore deeply interested in it in behalf of the creditors it represents."

LA CROSSE, WIS.—E. J. Evans is to become proprietor of the book department of William Doerflinger, and take charge on March 15. It is Mr. Evans's ambition to develop his department into one of the largest book stores in Wisconsin.

LOUISVILLE, KY.—Fred A. Dougherty, bookseller, has been succeeded by Haeberle & Moore.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—The firm of Aird & Ketcham, booksellers, at 7 West Main Street, has been dissolved. The business will hereafter be conducted by Charles A. Ketcham, who will remove to the store at 11 North Street, about April 1.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Prang Educational Company have removed their business to 113 University Place. The Boston business will hereafter be maintained as a branch office at 120 Boylston Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The New York office of Herbert S. Stone & Co., under Mr. Hadley's charge, has been removed to 150 Nassau Street.

SAVANNAH, GA.—J. W. Fretwell, bookseller, died last week at his home here.

PICK-UPS.

ITS RAPID SUCCESS.—"That's one of the best-selling books of the year." "It is? I never heard of it." "Well, it's only been out a couple of days."—Puck.

A NEW REMEDY.—A new recipe for a cold, just at present, would hardly be looked for in any other place than a drug store, but a downtown bookseller, according to the New York Evening Post, has discovered one which he claims as original. It is more on the "ounce-of-prevention" plan, and is as follows:

TO PREVENT A COLD

Buy a good novel and sit in a warm room
until it is read.

HAD STOCK EXCHANGE EXPERIENCE.—"Wanted: 500 men to appear in 'The Pit'—Men with Stock Exchange experience preferred. Apply to W. A. Brady at the Lyric Theatre, February 2d at 1 P.M." This advertisement startled New Yorkers last week. Three times the number applied to Mr. Brady. "Have you had any Stock Exchange experience?" asked Mr. Brady of an applicant. "Oh yes, $50,000 worth," was the reply. Then the man added "Steel." He got a job as super.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish shortly a book on ballooning by Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut.

CUPPLES & LEON, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, are the sole selling agents of Mrs. Frank Broaker's novel, "The Younger Mrs. Courtney."

THE LUCAS-LINCOLN COMPANY, Washington, D. C., have reduced the price of their novel, "The World Destroyer," to $1, which ought to help the sale of the book considerably.

JOHN LANE has just ready "Juniper Hall," by Constance Hill. It describes the rendezvous, in the Surrey village of Mickleham, of the illustrious refugees of the French Revolution, including Mme. de Stael, Talleyrand, Comte de Narbonne, and Gen. d'Arblay.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. will publish shortly "Later Magic," by Professor Hoffmann, in which he gives a detailed account of the latest novelties, etc., in the leading branches of magic; also, "Studies in Shakespeare," a new book by J. Churton Collins, whose book "Ephemera Critica," published two years ago, attracted wide attention.

THE report that President Roosevelt had received royalties to the amount of $150,000 on the sale of his books by Gebbie & Co., is a gross exaggeration. The fact is, the President's royalties have not yet aggregated $1000 all told. The erroneous statement appears to have grown out of a misunderstanding of Mr. Roosevelt's contract with his publishers, which entitles him to no larger royalties on editions de luxe than on the ordinary issues.

THE Leipzig publisher who purchased the German rights to Mlle. Guilbert's novel "La Vedette," is suing the French publishers of the book for breach of contract on the ground that it has been demonstrated that the novel was not really written by Mlle. Guilbert, and that for this reason the commercial value of the book has greatly depreciated. Letters from Mlle. Guilbert show that "La Vedette" was written by her in collaboration with Arthur Byl, who received $700 for his assistance.

THOMAS WHITTAKER, New York, has just published the "Official Report of the [Episcopal] Church Congress of 1903." Discussions of the "Name of the Church," "Marriage and Divorce" and "The Social Question" find prominent place in it. For the Lenten season two new books of note will be published shortly—"The Cross and Passion, Good Friday Addresses," by the Rev. George Hodges, D.D., of Cambridge, and "The Call of the Master," a series of addresses delivered at the mid-day Lent services in St. Paul's, Boston, by the Rev. Reginald Heber Howe, D.D.

At the January meeting of the Edinburgh Bibliographical Society an interesting paper was read by James Cameron, the Edinburgh bookseller, in which he sought to prove that John Gibson Lockhart was identical with the

"Leonard Smith" who published in London a small, now forgotten book, entitled "Northern Sketches, or, Characters of Glasgow." The book, of which a copy was shown, consists of a series of severely satirical character sketches of certain leading Glasgow citizens, and Mr. Cameron's contention is that it supplied the place of the later enlarged "Peter's Letters to His Kinsfolk."

ACCORDING to the Börsenblatt 354 works printed in the German language, regardless whether original or translated, were placed on the list of prohibited books last year in Russia. The works prohibited are chiefly of a religious and political tendency, though many medical and educational works, especially those propagating new ideas, such as the use of electricity, phonetics, etc., are also condemned. All fiction and poetry referring even distantly to conditions in Russia are denied admission. We also note that a number of popular almanacs, like the "Lahrer Hinkende Bote," etc., were also held up by the censor.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY expect to receive very soon the completed manuscript of a book by Robert Neilson Stephens, author of "Philip Winwood," etc., to be entitled "The Bright Face of Danger," and intended as a sequel to "An Enemy to the King." With this book Mr. Stephens returns to his first love, the romantic novel, and delves again into that treasure house of song and story, the France of Henry IV. Mr. Stephens's style is always dramatic, and his publishers are confident that this new book will duplicate the success of "An Enemy to the King," which is now in its fiftieth thousand and whose dramatization afforded Mr. Sothorn one of his most popular plays.

PAUL ELDER & Co., San Francisco, Cal., have published two new valentines—a folder, entitled "The Temptation of Saint Valentine" and "A Vacant Valentine," both written and designed by W. S. Wright. Both are artistically printed and will appeal to all votaries of the patron saint of true lovers. Each is enclosed in a valentine-red envelope and retails for twenty-five cents. They have also just ready a booklet printed in several colors, entitled "Flowers of Fate," which will interest those to whom the element of fortune-telling appeals. It is adapted for a luncheon favor, a valentine or a simple gift. The retail price is fifty cents.

THE UNIVERSITY PRESS, Cambridge, and A. W. Elson & Co., Boston, announce a series of Monographs of the American Revolution, the first of which will be a monograph on Thomas Jefferson by the late Paul Leicester Ford, which was completed just before his death. The volume will be sumptuously printed on imperial Japan paper, in large quarto, and will be illustrated with original etchings and photogravure reproductions. The edition will be limited to 500 copies printed from type. No plates will be made of the text, and the plates of the etchings, etc., will be destroyed, prints of the scarified illustrations being included as further evidence of the limited edition.

THE MEDICAL PUBLISHING COMPANY, 17 Ann Street, New York, has just published a reprint of an interesting book entitled "History of Flagellation among Different Nations." The work which, as published years ago, is anonymous both as to author and publisher, is a narrative of the strange customs and cruelties of the Romans, Greeks, Egyptians, and others, and gives an account of its practice among the early Christians as a religious stimulant and corrector of morals, also, anecdotes of remarkable cases of flogging and of celebrated flagellants. The practices described were not only in vogue in ancient days but were customs of a comparatively recent time, and were not confined to classes or individuals but claimed as victims all sorts and conditions of men. The book contains eight full-page and several minor illustrations in the text.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY will publish in March "The Human Touch," their first piece of fiction this year. It is a story of Western life, with a unique love interest, and much action connected with cattle ranch life in New Mexico. It is written by Edith M. Nicholl, daughter of the late Dean of Westminster. They have also in preparation "The Loves of Edwy," by Rose Cecil O'Neill, the well-known woman illustrator, who furnishes over sixty drawings for her own book; "The Little Green Door," by Mary E. Stone Bassett, author of "Judith's Garden," her latest book being a charming atmospheric bit of romance; "The Dagnet," by Evelyn Snead Barnett, a very original story depicting the fight against a trust; "The Way of the Transgressor," by Howard Fielding, a rattling adventure story in which clever criminals are conspicuous; also, a new story by Harry Leon Wilson, author of "The Spenders" and "The Lions of the Lord."

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY announce early for publication "The Corner in Coffee," a romance of New York society and the Coffee Exchange, by Cyrus Townsend Brady; "Left in Charge," a story of Western farm life just before the war between the States, by Clara Morris; "I Need the Money," by Hugh McHugh, author of "John Henry," etc.; "The Universe a Vast Electric Organism," by George W. Warder, author of "Cities of the Sun," etc.; "The Middle Wall," a novel by Edward Marshall, author of "The Story of the Rough Riders," "Lizette," etc.; "The Yellow Holly," a detective story by Fergus Hume; "Quintus Oakes," a detective story by Charles R. Jackson, author of "The Third Degree;" "Eppy Grams by Dinkelspiel," per George V. Hobart, author of "John Henry," etc.; "Twisted History," by Frank C. Voorhies, author of "Love Letters of an Irishwoman," etc.; also, "The Theatrical Primer," a satire, by Harold Acton Vivian.

A. S. BARNES & COMPANY's first announcements for February include "The Citizen, a Study of the Individual and the Government," by Professor N. S. Shaler, of Harvard University; "Napoleon, a Short Biography," by R. M. Johnston, Austin Teaching Fellow at Harvard University; "Running the River," a story by George Cary Eggleston, illustrated; "Cap'n Eri, a Story of the Coast," by Joseph C. Lincoln, illustrated in colors by Charlotte Weber; "Women's Ways of Earning Money," by Cynthia Westover Alden, president-general of the International Sunshine Society, illustrated; and "Beauty Through Health," by Dr. Emma E. Walker, the first two volumes in the Women's Home Library, edited by Mrs. Margaret Sangster. The Trail-Makers is the title of their series of great American explorations and travels. The interesting announcement is made that Professor John Bach McMaster is acting as consulting editor of this important series, in which the Lewis and Clark Journals and Mackenzie's Voyages will be followed by some new volumes to be made known shortly.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR Co. will issue March 1st "Golf for Women," by Genevieve Hecker, (Mrs. Charles T. Stout,) one of the best American women golf players; "How to Get the Best Out of Books," by Richard Le Gallienne; "Moses Brown, Captain U. S. N.," by Edgar Stanton Maclay, being the first volume of series entitled Unknown Heroes of the Navy; "Social Progress," an almanac of sociological and religious statistics, edited by Josiah Strong, containing many figures for 1903 which cannot be obtained elsewhere; "God's Living Oracles," by Arthur T. Pierson; "The Congregationalists" in The Story of the Churches, by Leonard W. Bacon; "The Evolution of Knowledge," a review of philosophy, by R. S. Perrin; and "The Better New York," a "sociological Baedeker," prepared by Dr. Tolman, of the American Institute of Social Service, and Charles Hemstreet, author of several fascinating books on old New York. They have just brought out a new edition of Poore's "Pictorial Composition and the Critical Judgment of Pictures," which contains additional illustrations, more copious text references and index, and an appendix that reduces the book to a working basis for class room use and for students.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish on the 11th inst. a book of much present interest, in which the author, Charles Waldo Haskins, has endeavored to give business education its rightful place in the training of youth to-day. Mr. Haskins maintains that business should have an equal footing in collegiate courses with that of the so-called liberal professions, and that young men intending to pursue a business career should be prepared for it as definitely and thoroughly as physicians and lawyers are prepared for their callings. The book is entitled "Business Education and Accountancy." It represents the mature thought of an educated, practical, active, and successful business man. On the same date Bram Stoker's new novel, "The Jewel of Seven Stars," will be published. The story combines an ancient mystery connected with the tomb of an Egyptian queen, with a modern London love story. A wealthy and enthusiastic Egyptologist, his interesting daughter, some much-baffled detectives, and a doctor are the dramatis personae of the action, and are present at the final dénouement, when the experiment of raising the mummied queen from the dead is tried in the lonely castle. It is a story of mysteries and surprises.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY announce for early publication an important work on steel in their Metallurgical Series, edited by Professor W. C. Roberts-Austen. This volume, "The Metallurgy of Steel," upon which the author, F. W. Harbord, has been at work for the past five years, is considered by those interested in steel to prove one of the most valuable contributions to this subject published in some years. The volume is a large one and will contain many plates and diagrams and about 500 illustrations. "The Educational Theory of Immanuel Kant," by Edward F. Buchner, which J. B. Lippincott Company add to their educational list this week, is a formulation of the conceptions of the great philosopher, as exhibited in his lecture-notes on pedagogy and in selections from others of his famous writings. The editor is professor in the University of Alabama. The last pages of the third volume of "Chambers's Cyclopædia of English Literature" are now on press, and the Lippincotts expect to issue the volume within the next two weeks. The new volume is largely concerned with American literature, and makes complete the new edition of this widely-known reference work. Of the spring novels the earliest to appear from the Lippincott press will be "A Failure," by Charles Bloomingdale, whose "Mr., Miss and Mrs." is now in its third edition. This will be closely followed by "Cadets of Gascony," by Burton E. Stevenson, the author of several novels of the Weyman school.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish on the 15th inst., "The Fugitive," by Ezra S. Brudno, which has the picturesque background of life in the Russian Pale, and then the scene shifts to the New York Ghetto. Subsequently the hero, who is an emancipated Jew, takes his place among the world's workers. "The Fugitive" interprets a new relation between the Jew and the Gentile, and shows that love is the leveler of all creeds. Mr. Brudno was born in Lithuania, a Russian province, and he has had every opportunity to gather his material first hand. A novel of unusual timeliness is "The Great Adventurer," by Robert Shackleton, which will be published soon. It is the romance of the man who formed the biggest trust in the world. It is a vivid, dramatic story, giving an intimate view of a colossal financial manipulation. Mr. Shackleton was for some years the star reporter on a great New York daily. He got at the kings of Wall Street first hand, and has the distinction of being one of the few newspaper men to interview J. Pierpont Morgan. Mr. Shackleton has written a strong story, with none of the technicalities of trade that have clogged most business novels. They are to bring out, probably in April, a comprehensive work on Indian basketry, entitled "Aboriginal American Basketry," by Otis T. Mason. It will be very elaborate and will cover every branch of the subject—history, materials, weaving, and dyeing methods, uses, symbolism, varieties, collections, collectors, ornamentation, etc. It will contain 46 colored plates, 200 full-page inserts in half-tone and more than 200 text cuts.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplaced, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

IMPORTANT NEW MACMILLAN BOOKS

JUST READY

By the author of "Elizabeth and her German Garden."

The Adventures of Elizabeth in Rügen

The delightful personality of the earlier books is displayed with even more charmingly fanciful and piquant humor in her capital account of an adventurous drive from one to another of the odd little watering-places in the exquisite island of Rügen.

Cloth, 12mo, $1.50

A new novel by the author of "Children of the Mist," etc., etc.

Mr. EDEN PHILLPOTTS' The American Prisoner

A powerful story of the time when French and American soldiers and sailors crowded the dim prison on Dartmoor during the War of 1812. There is a thrilling escape in a storm, a love interest whose heroine is a true "maid of Devon," and through it all that indescribable sense of atmosphere which has made "My Devon Year" so restful among recent books.

Cloth, 12mo, $1.50.

Mr. HERBERT W. PAUL'S History of Modern England

To be complete in five volumes, cloth, octavo. Vol. I. and II. now ready. $5.00 net

Its subject is the England of recent years.

Its author is a man of unusual experience, one of the most skilful writers and keenest observers of the present day, who goes clear to the heart of the matter in hand.

Its style is direct and forceful; as refreshing as its matter is illuminating.

Its point of view is that of this generation (of the young men under fifty, that is) and neither superficial nor warped by tradition.

English Literature AN ILLUSTRATED RECORD

By RICHARD GARNETT, LL.D., and EDMUND GOSSE, LL.D.

Now complete in four volumes, imperial octavo, cloth, $24.00 net; half morocco, $40.00 net

Illustrated with Color-plates, Photogravures, Wood Engravings, and Many Lithographic Facsimiles; also a Large Number of the Best Accredited Portraits of English Authors, Autographs, Title-pages, Caricatures, Facsimiles, etc.

A new volume of The Cambridge Modern History Just Ready. Vol. II.

Planned by the late LORD ACTON, LL.D., Regius Professor of Modern History in the University of Cambridge. Edited by A. W. WARD, Litt.D., G. W. PROTHERO, Litt.D., and STANLEY LEATHES, M.A. Contributed to by the leading specialists in historical research.

The work will be complete in twelve volumes, each $4.00 net. Those now ready are:

I. THE RENAISSANCE II. THE REFORMATION VII. THE UNITED STATES

"There can be no question about the great value of the work—in fact, it is invaluable to every historical student."

Public Ledger, Phila.

"Designed to be the most full, comprehensive, and scientific history of modern times in the English language, or perhaps in any language."

Nation.

Historical and other papers by J. R. GREEN

Historical Studies

of rare interest to students, as affording a glimpse into the author's workshop during the writing of the Short History of England.

365 p., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

Stray Studies (second series)

Papers originally written for the Saturday Review, full of vivid interest and showing how unchanging certain problems remain.

276 p., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

HENRY HARLAND'S

Sparkling Italian Romance

My Friend Prospero

THE REASON—

Because it is the best novel that Mr. Harland has yet written.

It is a fascinating delightful story notable for its literary finish. As artistic a piece of workmanship as ever came from Mr. Harland's pen.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

Mr. Harland's love story is the cream of romance, and the acme of idealism.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Indeed, another fiction jewel of that sort to which Mr.
Harland is able to impart a distinctive lustre.—N. Y. World.

ALFRED RUSSEL WALLACE'S

Fascinating and epoch-marking book on

Man's Place in the Universe

THE REASON—

Because no question has a more live interest to every reading person than man's position in creation.

Of the books that have been issued in this decade, this is one of the most important. The argument is arranged in a masterly manner.—Pittsburg Post.

The most powerful and interesting scientific work of the age.
Philadelphia North American.

PROOF—

Second edition in press of

The Heart of Japan

By C. L. BROWNELL

THE REASON—

Because everyone wants to know about the brave little people who are willing to risk war with Russia.

A book that is interesting throughout and gives one of the most intimate accounts of the life of the Japanese that is accessible to English readers.—Minneapolis Journal.
